Needs Assessment

Students after attaining A-Level / Intermediate qualification enrol in local universities and colleges for tertiary qualification. These tertiary qualifications achieved in Pakistan are nationally recognised only.

When these students move abroad for employment purpose, their Pakistan based qualifications are not as recognised in most of the countries especially Europe, North America, etcetera as UK based Edexcel qualifications are. Having achieved Edexcel qualification, these students will have an internationally recognised qualification under their belt which could enable them to secure prestigious employment abroad.

Edexcel qualifications will equip them with the skills to be creative, imaginative, innovative, critical thinkers, reflective learners, and independent enquirers. These skills are mandatory to secure gainful employment in an international market.
Delivery of Online Edexcel courses

As mentioned earlier, the main purpose of providing edexcel courses is to enable your students to study for an internationally recognised qualification at their own convenience. Students can plan their education around their own schedule. All they need is a computer, internet connection and the basic computer literacy.

The advantage of e-learning is its ubiquitous nature. Learners can access their lecture materials from anywhere. If the learners are at work or home or a café, they should be able to access the learning materials as long as they have a computer and an internet connection and the skills to use them.

All our tutors are qualified and appropriately screened by Edexcel. They have several years of experience of delivering edexcel courses. Learners would be in continuous communication with their tutors to seek assistance. Tutors will guide the learners through the course material, set and mark their work and provide constructive feedback on their progress.

The degree of help the tutors can provide depends upon the frequency of their communication. The more questions they ask online, the more they will get the response from their tutors and it will help them in maximising their performance in coursework/assignments. Tutors become more interested in the career and future plans of the students who seek maximum help from them. Learners would be able to access online chat rooms where they can easily communicate to their tutors. They would also be able to leave their messages online to receive their responses.

Our stimulating lecture materials and prompt feedback time from our tutors will encourage the students to be committed to their studies.
