METRO Business simulation

(Support office)

Ref No MBS 17

METRO Business simulation is a computer-based simulation jointly created by METRO Group and TATA Interactive – the European leader in simulations production. It has been used for an internal training and now it is accessible for people outside METRO - only in Bulgaria!

If you are curious to see what's happening in the heart of the wholesale and what are the decisions taken by the management, join the METRO Business simulation.

What is it to participate in our MBS?

- The computer simulation is online with duration of four weeks (starting 20th May)
- Three teams consisting of eight students take part in it
- It starts with one-day seminar on which the participants are trained by a member of the team who has developed the simulation
- All participants receive various statistics and market data and based on that they should make individual and group decisions concerning the company's activity
- Every week the results of the teams are discussed on a meeting with managers from METRO

Your profile:

- At least second year of Bachelor's study in the field of Economics
- Very good English
- Good organizational and analytical skills
- Curiosity and willingness to learn
- Excellent communication skills

We offer you:

- Participation in international project
- Putting your knowledge into practice with real-life situations typical for wholesale's everyday business
- Opportunity to learn how to work in a team and to take strategic decisions
- Chance to start your career at METRO
