

BURGISS SOFIA – SUMMER INTERNSHIP

About Burgiss

Burgiss is a privately-held, US-based financial technology company founded over 30 years ago. Today, with over 200 people and 4 locations, we serve over 1,000 global clients including the largest institutional investors.

Headquartered in Hoboken, New Jersey, USA, the company's wholly-owned subsidiary, The Burgiss Group Ltd. was established in June 2017 to support a growing operation.

About the Internship

Use this opportunity to gain a truly unique experience in a multi-national firm. You'll be exposed to the investment process, performance, and service needs of some of the world's largest and recognizable institutional investors.

As part of our data operations team, you will have the unique opportunity to gain experience with and be exposed to alternative investments. The opportunity will provide you with a hands-on experience in financial research and private capital data as well as help develop professional relationships with peers.

The internship is offered between July and September 2018.

Following orientation and training, your assignment will include researching, analyzing and data basing financial information from fund manager performance statements.
